

Center Director Position Announcement
Billings, MT

November 19, 2009

The Director of the Audubon Conservation Education Center (ACEC) will be a strategic thinking entrepreneur, a leader, fundraiser, and charismatic facilitator who is able to work with a partnership of public and private entities to create and administer a “flagship” Montana Audubon Center in Billings, Montana. The Director will be responsible for all aspects of planning, developing, operating, and managing the Center, and for carrying out the mission of Montana Audubon in the Billings region. The Center Director will also carry all responsibilities for coordinating and facilitating statewide education efforts as needed.

Competitive salary with full health and retirement benefits. For complete job description visit www.mtaudubon.org

This position will remain open until filled. Selection process will begin January 4, 2010.